DINING ON BEAVER CREEK MOUNTAIN

Spruce Saddle Restaurant: Discover this recently remodelled mid-mountain restaurant. With a new children's lunchroom and expanded seating, Spruce Saddle is now better than ever.

Red Tail Camp: Enjoy sunny decks and open fire cooking at one of Beaver Creek Mountain's most popular restaurants. Located at the base of Red Tail, Grouse Mountain and Larkspur Bowl.

Rafter's: Relax and enjoy a fine dining experience surrounded by majestic views of the Gore Range and Beaver Creek Resort. Located in the upper level of Spruce Saddle Restaurant.

Beano's Cabin (not open for lunch): Take a startle snowcat sleigh ride to a memorable dinner at this beautiful log restaurant located on Beaver Creek Mountain. Call 940-9090 for reservations.

McCoy's: Enjoy breakfast, lunch and a roaring après ski at McCoy's, located at the base of Centennial.

Beaver Creek Resort has developed its own wildlife enhancement program in conjunction with local and federal government agencies. We are proud of these efforts to minimize our impact on this beautiful setting, and we ask that you please share our sense of responsibility as you enjoy this valley.

Beaver Creek Mountain facilities, operated by Vail Associates, Inc., are located within the White River National Forest and are under permit from the Forest Service, U.S.D.A.

Many winter activities take place in the White River National Forest. Learn about all of the recreation available on United States Forest Service land by visiting the Ruby Cross Ranger District in Almont or by calling 837-5715.
